MIDNIGHT PHANTOM

A pulp noir graphic novel by Jemir Johnson

South Carolina author

Publisher	Creative Elamentz Studios
Format	Paperback, 6 x 9 in
Pages	106
Retail price	$9.99
Audience	Ages 13+
ISBN	978-0-9818278-5-8
LCCN	2025913371
Ebook	Kindle, Kindle Unlimited

Harlem, 1936.

There are many ways to die in Harlem. Crossing him is the quickest. A cursed vigilante rides Black Storm, an obsidian motorcycle born of dark magic, hunting uptown's gangsters and the darker forces that move with them. Five stories of pulp action, mystery, and the supernatural.

Inside the book

Murder By Dawn. A woman is marked for death by an un-living assassin, and the Phantom has until dawn to learn why.

Huntress of the Cursed. Mysteria Fortune emerges from the mists hunting the one prize that will grant her power beyond measure.

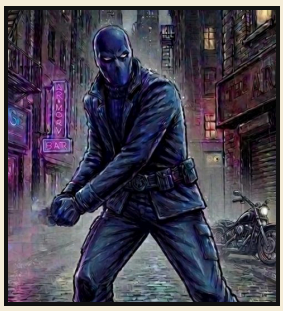

Tunnel of Blood. A hidden tunnel swallows its victims, and now a child has been lured in as the final sacrifice.

The Curious Case of Harlem Rose. Private eye Truck Spartan takes an easy-money murder case that leaves him only hours to find the truth.

Death Comes to Mind. Reporter Dakota Raje trails two killings in East Harlem and can't tell if the Phantom is an ally or his own grave.

Why it belongs on your shelf

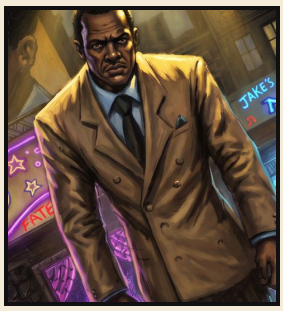

For readers of The Shadow, Doc Savage, and Dick Tracy, and fans of Walter Mosley's mysteries. Shelve with Comics & Graphic Novels (Crime & Mystery) and African American literature.

Midnight Phantom

Mysteria Fortune

Truck Spartan

Zora "Zee" Baptiste

Dakota Raje

Order through IngramSpark or Amazon
ISBN 978-0-9818278-5-8

Jemir Johnson, author
JJspan17@gmail.com | 347-928-0131